MEDICINAL.

HURRY UP!

Everywhere one hears that expression hurry up!" It is a genuine Americanism expressive of the "rush" in which we live. Nothing is swift enough for us. We race against steam and lightning and find them slow. We grudge the time given to eating, and rush through meals as though life depended upon our haste.

Life does depend on our haste, but not in that sense. Look at the obituary columns of the papers and see how many prominent men are carried away by "sto mach trouble." "acute indigestion" and other related diseases. Their lives have in general been sacrificed to the haste and rush of business which overlooked the fact that food can only nourish the body when digested and that the digestive and assimilative processes can'l be hurried.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, cures diseases of the stomach and the associated organs of digestion and nutrition. The source of all physical strength is food, properly digested and perfectly assimilated. By enabling the perfect digestion and sasimilation of food "Golden Medical Discovery" increases and enriches the blood supply and sends new strength to every organ of the body.

"I was at one time as I thought almost at death's door," writes Mr. J. S. Bell, of Leando, van Buren Co., Iowa. "I was confined to my house and part of the time to my bed. I had taken quantities of medicines but they only seemed to feed the disease; but I must say that Golden Medical Discovery' has cured me, and today I am stouter than I have been for twenty years. I am now forty-three years old."

FROGMORE

To the southeast of Windsor Castle among the trees and shrubs to the east of the splendid Long Walk, is the beautiful rural retreat known as Frog-more House.

About the first we hear of this estate, in the very shadow of Windsor is in the reign of George III, when Queen Charo to turchased it and had its charming celder ce built for her by Wyat.

To be sure, it was originally a part of he royal domain, but had been sold during the civil ware in the reign of diaries I.

Among other royalties the Duchess i Kent, Victoria's mother, bas made Fregmere her residence.

Beautifully furnished, and surrounded by every possible rural delight, from a Gothic ruin to a lake with a marine grotto, this gem of a piace has a natural setting in every way worthy of it. On the summet of a mound, entirely surrounded by shrubs and ornamental water, stands a circular temple-like edifice of Portland stone, the mauscleum in which Victoria had placed all that was moral of her loved mother, who died in her seventy-fifth year, March 16, 1861. Sixteen Ionic columns of polished

Penroyu granite, with bronzed capitals and bases, support the dome, which is lighted from the top.

The remains of her royal bighness are in a sarcophagus of polished blue granite.

About 50 yards from the last resting place of Victoria's mother will be her own 'long home," which up to this time has been called the Prices Con-

Though somewhat plainly designed rom the outs de, this effect is wiped out by a grand flight of marble steps, with its guardian angels in brocze, a vestibule with a bronzed and gilded girdle between its heraldic quartering.

Here's this inscription in Latin:

"His mourning w dow, Victoria, the Queen, directed all that is mortal of Prince Albert to be placed in this sepolchre, A. D. 1862. Farewell, well be-loved! Here at last will I rest with thee; with thee, in Chrs, I will rise ESTATES GO TO THE KING .- The London "World" states definitely that the Balmoral estate in Scotland and the O borne estate in the Isie of Wight were bequeathed by Queen Victoria to King Elward. These properties are too large and expensive for anyone to keep up except the King.

Two small houses at Osborne, which are connected by an underground passage, were left to Princess Beatrice.

The "World" also says it has good authority for stating that the Queen left £140 000 cash to the Duke of Con-naught and Princess s Louise, Coristian, and Beatrice, in addition to the large sums her Majesty settled on them in her lifetime. Her Majesty also provid-ed for her daughter-in-iaw, the Duchess of Albany. Her jewelry and personal ornaments, all of which are extremely valuable, she divided among her daughter-in-law, and grand-ters.

ters, daughters-in-law, and grand-daughters.

King Edward will not give up Sand-ringham as a place of residence.

KAISER'S SON MAY WED COUSIN .-It is rumored in high social circles in London that the Crown Prince of Germany is likely to return there during the year, ostensibly to continue his English studies, but really to seek a British wife. In fact, some sections of German society already regard the Princess Alice of Albany as their Empress-elect. The Kaiser is certainly expendingly arrivent to see his help and exceedingly anxious to see his heir set tled, and as there seems to exist in high royal quarters none of that prejudice against the marriage of near relations which exists to less exalted circles it is almost certain that the future Emperor will chose his bride from among the charming group of cousins which includes Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg Gotha, Princess Alice of Albany and the two Princesses of Connaught.

BALTIMOBE, MD.

The paper of the people, for the people and with the people. Honest in motive, tearless in expression and sound in principle.

The Sun is the highest type of a newspaper. The Sun's special correspondents throughout the United States, as well as in Furupe, South Africs, China and, in fact, all over the world, make it an up-to-date newspaper. The market reports and commercial features put the farmer, the merchant and the breker in close touch with the markets at Baltimore, Norfolk, Charleston, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and other places which are prominent centres.

From now on the news of the world promises to be more interesting than ever before, and national and political questions will arise, making probably the most eventful period in the country's history.

This, together with the corps of editors and reporters at Baltimore, Washington and New York, make the Sun invaluable to its readers.

Two editions of the paper are pre-eminently suited for Southern reading—the Weekly and the Tri-Weekly.

The Weekly, issued every Thursday, is a compact rews, agricultural and family naper, unexcelled for cultivators of the soil and their amilies. Its market reports have given that edition a special reputation. Numerous special departments are projected and maraged so as to attract every household and all the members thereof. Several half-tone pictures agrees in each number. Price $1 a vest.

The Tri-Weekly, printed Monday, Wednessay and Friday, is a bandsome, spirited and condensed every-other-day daily newspaper, easily the best publication of its class in the United States. It has all the special features of the Weekly and the important news of that Daily, and is printed and miled at the same time as the Daily. The news—clean, accurate and fairly presented—is admirably displayed according to its value, and is never distorted. For political news you cannot find any better newspaper, and the news is given without any political bias. The editorial pego breathes the spirit of purett patriolism and broadest charity, untainted by any consideration caye the welfare of the home and the country. Its reviews are pungent, wise and witty.
